

Citizenship requirements unclear

The Society for Research in Child Development (SRCD) seeks a Director for the Office of Policy and Communications located in Washington, DC. The position requires a Doctorate in the field of Developmental Science. The Director develops, implements and coordinates the policy and communications agendas of SRCD. For a full position description, its requirements and instructions for applying, go to <http://www.srcd.org/> and click on the More button in the position announcement. SRCD is an equal opportunity employer.